In the pendency of the dispute raised by the Union in connection with the transfer of the complainant from Margao to Curchorem, which is subject matter of reference No. IT/12/77, the employer opponent transferred the complainant from Curchorem to Kakoda Garage, thereby changing his service conditions and violating Section 33 of the Act without intimating the Court.

2. The Opponent, in its reply, has raised the following preliminary objections and prayed that the complaint be rejected on the basis of the said objections, which are:

i) That the complainant has not mentioned which of the specific provision of Section 33 has been contravened by the Opponent with the alleged transfer and, in the absence of such specification, the complaint is to be rejected;

ii) Besides, the transfer in question took place in July 1978 and the complaint has been filed 2 years after and, on this ground of laches and undue delay also the complaint should be rejected; and

iii) The complaint also has not been made in the pro-forma and in the manner provided in the Act and Rules and this would be a further ground for rejecting the same.

On merits, it is alleged that the reference under No. IT/12/77, is regarding the transfer of the complainant from Margao to Curchorem whilst the present reference is regarding the transfer from Curchorem to Cacora Garage and so there is no contravention of Section 33 of the Act. It is Management's inherent prerogative to transfer an employee from one establishment to the other unless there is a specific provision in the contract prohibiting such transfer. The transfer of the complainant from Curchorem to Cacora was done in the interest of the Opponent's business arising out of the administrative necessity. Such transfer does not amount to change in service condition of the complainant. Even assuming that it amounts, it does not cause any prejudice to the complainant. This transfer has no connection with the earlier transfer, subject matter of reference No. IT/12/77.

3. In his rejoinder, the complainant has maintained his earlier stand and stated that the transfer in question is a measure to harass the complainant.

4. Following issues were framed:

"i) Whether the complainant proves that by transferring him from Curchorem to Cacora Garage, the Opponent employer has contravened the provision of Section 33(1)(a) of the I.D.A., 1947?

ii) Whether the Opponent proves that the transfer in question does not amount to a change in service condition of the complainant. But, even assuming that it amounts to such change, it has not prejudicially affect the complainant?

iii) Whether the Opponent proves that the delay in filling the complaint by the complainant would lead to the rejection of the said complaint?

iv) Whether the opponent proves that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with this complaint?

Issue No. 4 to be deemed as preliminary."

5. Evidence was led by both the parties on the above issues. The evidence of the complainant consists of his statement and the evidence of the opponent, of the statements of Vaman Silimkhan, Narayan Moghe, who looks after the accounts and personnel matters of the Opponent's establishment, and of one Shridhar Chodankar.

6. Dealing first with the issue No. 4 which reads as follows and has been treated as preliminary:

"Whether the Opponent proves that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with this complaint?"

This issue was framed on the basis of the following objections raised by the Opponent:

- i) The complaint is bad in law as it does not disclose which of the specific provisions of Section 33 has been contravened by the employer while transferring the workman from Curchorem to Cacora Garage;
- ii) The complaint suffers from the defect of laches and undue delay as it was filed after a lapse of 2 years; and
- iii) It was also not made in the prescribed manner provided by the Act and Rules.

In view of the objections raised, the complainant, with the leave of the court, filed an amended complaint in which objections (i) and (iii) were removed. The only objection which remained and has to be dealt with now, is the one under No. (ii), regarding undue delay in filing the complaint. The complaint (Exh W-3) was presented in court on 3-9-1979, although the order transferring the workman (Exh W-1) is dated 3-7-1979 and the workman had reported for duty under protest on 11-11-1979 (Exh W-2). The complainant, in his statement before the Tribunal has tried to give some explanation for the delay, which explanation is not satisfactory at all. However, having regard to the fact that Section 33A of the Act does not prescribe any time limit for the filing of the complaint, the Tribunal has to deal with it, although the undue delay may be a fact weighing against the complainant while assessing the evidence led by the parties.

7. Coming now to the merits of the complaint:

The complainant Datta Naik has stated, in short, that in 1976, the employees of the company formed a Union known as The Goa Establishment Staff Union of which he was elected Treasurer; the employer company brought pressure on him in several ways to give up the post of Treasurer, but he did not give up and within a month was transferred to Curchorem office; he reported to Curchorem under protest; after 2 years from the first transfer, he was again transferred, this time from Curchorem to Cacora garage. Exh W-1 is the transfer order. Then, he explains the reasons as to why this complaint, which was drafted sometime after the last transfer order, was delayed. As the employer did not want to consider the inconvenience caused to the complainant with this transfer, the complainant joined the Cacora garage on 11-11-1978, after giving the letter of protest (Exh W-2). With this transfer he had to incur additional expenses at the rate of 0.35 ps., 4 times a day. At the time of this 2nd transfer, the dispute regarding the 1st transfer was still pending before the Tribunal.

In his cross: He has stated that, although the normal time of working is from 8.00 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2.00 p.m. to 6.00 p.m., he was given the facility to work from 9.00 a.m. to 12 noon and 2.00 p.m. to 6.00 p.m., i.e. 1 hour less than the others; besides, on Saturdays, he worked only for 5 hours whilst the others worked 8 hours. Ghodge was the Vice President of the Union and one Kutty was the President; he still continues to be a member of the Union; the last subscription he paid was sometime in 1978; he was not paying subscription at the time of 2nd transfer; he has denied the suggestion that he is not a member of the Union; the last meeting he attended was in 1979; he has produced the copy of the complaint Exh W-3; the endorsement in this complaint which is dated 3-9-1979 shows that it was received on 5-9-1979. Exh E-1 is the appointment letter. In this letter there is no clause prohibiting his transfer. He has admitted that he was transferred from Samvordem to Cacora garage for business.

In his cross: he has further stated that this transfer also, as the previous one, is by way of victimization although he has not taken this plea in his statement of claim.

7. Vaman Silimkhan has stated that as in the year 1978 there was re-organisation of mining records and all the records were maintained by the Head Office, he submitted a report (Exh E-2) to the Head Office that, in view of the said re-organisation, there was no work for the complainant Datta Naik and, hence, he was transferred.

In his cross: He has stated that he has suggested the name of Datta Naik, as the other clerk was also doing field work. In 1957 the witness was transferred from the head office to Cacora Garage.

8. Shri N. Moghe, who is working for the employer and looking after the accounts department and Personnel department, has stated that, in view of the report (Exh E-2) of Silimkhan, the workman was shifted from Curchorem to Cacora garage, where there was a vacancy, as per the report of Chodankar, incharge of the Cacora workshop.

In his cross: He has stated that since the workman is working for a long time, he is to be presumed as a permanent employee. When Datta Naik was transferred to Cacora garage, a dispute regarding the first transfer was still pending before the Tribunal; he is not aware what work was allotted to the workman in the Cacora garage; of the clerical staff, after re-organisation, only the workman was affected, but mechanical staff was also affected. It is true that, because of the transfer, the workman has to incur some extra expenditure on transport. He has produced Exh W-5 to show that 2 other employees were transferred from the Head Office to Vasco and Kapxem Mines, respectively in the year 1975.

9. Shridhar Chodankar is another witness of the employer. He is the incharge of the Cacora garage since 1958-59. In the year 1978, due to increase in the work load in the workshop, there was need for additional hands in the stores. He informed Mr. Moghe that he required 1-2 additional hands and Datta Naik, the complainant herein, was sent; he was working as Stores Clerk in the garage; he has denied that he never asked for additional hands and that Datta Naik was transferred without any request.

10. This is all the evidence on record.

In Special Civil application No. 42/B/1981 filed by the employer in connection with the Award dated 30-5-1980, delivered by my Ld. Predecessor Dr. Coelho, quashing the order of transfer of the workman from Margao to Curchorem on the sole ground of malafide, the Bombay High Court of Judicature, Goa Bench, in its ruling dated 14-6-1984, has held that the inherent right to transfer an employee from one department to the other is undisputable. Being so, the only point to be considered in this case is as to whether such transfer made in the pendency of the proceedings would amount to change in service conditions of the workman, and prejudicially affecting him.

11. The Labour Appellate Tribunal of India at Bombay, in its Judgment in the case of Mysore Spinning and manufacturing company limited and H. N. Narayan Murthy, reported in 1955 1 LLJ page 634, has held that the liability to transfer is an ordinary incident of service, and, therefore, transfer of a workman pending proceedings before the Industrial Tribunal and without its permission from one department to another without affecting his salary but with less chances to earn overtime wages could not be considered to be in contravention of Section 33A of the Act, involving any alteration in the conditions of service.

Similarly, the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in the Case of National Carbon Company (India) Limited and Muktinath Singh and 6 others (National Carbon Mazdoor Union) reported in 1957 2 LLJ page 567 has held that the transfer of a workman which does not affect his normal wages but only fluctuating amounts by way of incentives to the job could not be considered to be an adverse change in the conditions of service of the workman within the meaning of Section 33 of the Act.

Also, in the case of Kodar Automobiles and Sudhan Chandra Gosh, reported in 1957 1 LLJ page 326, the Labour Appellate Tribunal has held that in making an order of transfer of an employee, the Management was clearly within its rights under the Standing Orders and no permission of the Tribunal under Section 33 of the Act was required.

12. In the instant case, the transfer of the workman, admittedly, did not affect his normal wages, although compelled him to incur some extra amount in travelling. Such transfer was done as stated by the employer and admitted by the workman due to the extenuating circumstances of the business. The workman has also admitted in his statement before this Tribunal that there is no clause in his letter of appointment prohibiting his transfer.

13. Since the transfer from one department to another in the company is an ordinary incident of service and it was not expressly prohibited in this case and since such transfer was done due to exigencies of service and did not affect the normal wages of the workman, although forcing him to further expenses of transport; such transfer is to be considered as not amounting to a change in service condition of the workman prejudicially affecting him and, therefore, the provision of Section 33 of the Act would not be attracted.

14. The workman did not take the plea of victimization in his statement of claim but he took such plea in his statement before this Tribunal. Such plea was also taken by him regarding his earlier transfer, subject matter of the special Civil Application No. 42/B/1981, in which the High Court ruling dated 14-6-1984 referred to above was given and dismissed the said plea and, therefore, there is no need to consider it again in this case.

15. In the premises above, I dismiss this complaint. Having regard to the circumstances of the case, I leave each party to bear its own costs.
